Sweeney Ridge offered Spanish explorers their first view of San Francisco Bay—and gives modern-day visitors glimpses of hawks, deer, and a wide array of both native and introduced spring wildflowers. A National Historic Landmark site, with a stone plaque commemorating the 1769 expedition of Gaspar de Portolà, can be reached via the Baquiano Trail from Pacifica or Sneath Lane Trail from San Bruno. Known for scenic vistas and a layered history, Sweeney Ridge is a memorable place. You can help preserve this remarkable site through one of our many volunteer programs.

PARK STEWARDSHIP ✡ Restore habitat for endangered species such as the San Francisco garter snake, and learn all about local ecology. Volunteer projects are a combination of hands-on work and short natural history lessons.

TRAILS FOREVER CREW ✡ Your park trails need you! Join the Trails Forever crew and you’ll help restore and maintain trails, construct new routes, and protect sensitive natural habitat.

GET STARTED—TODAY! ✡ Most programs are ongoing, and offer regularly scheduled drop-in opportunities. Individual and group opportunities are available.
